How we can help you keep your animals?

I have tired to surrender my dog several times and I always find myself stuck giving him another chance. Remis has gotten agresiva and attempted to bite me many times and I’m at the point that I am afraid of the dog. He is properly jealous. of my other dog and he is no longer behaving, nor listening. I have to keep him mainly in a cage to avoid fights. I spent over 5000 in several ovacions training the dog, the last trainer told me that his behavior would not change.
Honestly I’m afraid of the dog.

Admin notes

1/3/23 Called owner who stated the dog in the home has become severely aggressive. Owner is unable to get close to the dogs cage and has to lure the dog to crate her. It was stated both dogs in the home have been in several fights with each other due to behavior. Due to this, the dog Remi is now crated. I was informed the owner has now become very afraid of the dog and does not want to be near her with worries she or her husband will get bit. I informed her if she wishes to surrender her animal, euthanasia is recommended for the dog. The owner became upset stating she would try to rehome her on her own. CW
