Reason for surrender

My dog has a skin condition like psoriasis and its shedding a lot of danger and has an ulcer on a let because he has lost a lot of hair. This all happened after his kidney stones surgery. Someone called me and asked me if there is something that they could help me with to retain my dog and I told the lady that if they can find what he has an cure him that I can keep him. The lady set up an appointment for 05/04/2023 for the vet to see him but a few days before my appointment someone called me to tell me that probably the vet was not going to be able to see him and that he was probably going to be put to sleep. I would like to know if he can be seen to see if we can figure out a way to help him. I have taking him to 3 diff vets and they dont know what he has.

My current living situation is...

I have a stable home.

I have read and understood the pet rehome statement.
